OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION REPORT
MSW I

Field Work I

MSW

Sem - 1

1. Course Overview

Field Work I is a core practicum course offered to first-year MSW students to orient them to the profession of social work through supervised field exposure. The course introduces students to the historical foundations, philosophical base, ethics, and self-care practices essential for professional social work practice.

The course outcomes focus on understanding the profession, applying ethical principles, and developing personal and professional balance. The average CO attainment is 3, indicating excellent achievement of learning outcomes.

2. Purpose of the Course Overview Report

The purpose of this report is to:

- Assess the attainment of field-based and professional competencies
- Evaluate the effectiveness of experiential learning and supervision
- Ensure alignment between Course Outcomes and Program Outcomes
- Review student readiness for advanced field practice
- Support continuous improvement in field education

3. Gap Analysis

The gap analysis compares target attainment levels with actual student performance.

Key Observations:

- All course outcomes have significantly exceeded their target levels, reflecting strong student engagement and effective field supervision.

- High performance in the external examination indicates clear understanding of professional foundations and ethics.
- Indirect attainment through student feedback is consistently high, confirming positive learning experiences.
- PO5, PO6, and PO7 show no attainment due to the introductory nature of the course, which focuses on foundational competencies rather than advanced policy and leadership skills.

Overall Gap Status:

There are no learning gaps at the course outcome level.

4. Areas for Improvement / Action Plan

To further strengthen the course:

- Introduce structured reflective journals to deepen learning
- Increase guided supervision and mentoring sessions
- Provide exposure to diverse field agencies
- Integrate stress management and self-care workshops

5. Summary and Conclusion

The Field Work I course is effectively designed and successfully implemented, with strong alignment to program outcomes related to professional orientation, ethics, and reflective practice. All course outcomes have been achieved beyond expected levels, demonstrating the effectiveness of field-based learning.

Overall, the course plays a foundational role in shaping ethical, self-aware, and practice-ready social work professionals.

Health and Social Work

MSW

Sem - 1

1. Course Overview

The Health and Social Work course is offered to first-year MSW students to develop a comprehensive understanding of health, wellness, health disparities, and the relationship between health and social development. The course equips students with analytical and practical skills to plan community-based health interventions and critically examine health policies and reforms.

The course outcomes emphasize understanding health concepts, developing health education action plans, analyzing health–development linkages, examining social determinants of health, and evaluating health policies and insurance mechanisms. The average Course Outcome (CO) attainment is 2.81, indicating good overall achievement of learning outcomes.

2. Purpose of the Course Overview Report

The purpose of this course overview report is to:

- Measure the extent of achievement of course outcomes
- Evaluate the effectiveness of teaching–learning and assessment methods
- Ensure alignment between Course Outcomes (COs) and Program Outcomes (POs)
- Identify strengths and learning gaps
- Support continuous quality improvement in curriculum delivery

3. Gap Analysis

The gap analysis compares target attainment levels with final CO attainment.

Key Observations:

- CO1 to CO4 have exceeded their target levels, reflecting strong conceptual understanding and analytical skills among students.
- CO2 and CO3 show very high attainment due to activity-based learning methods such as debates, presentations, and action-plan preparation.
- CO5 shows a negative gap, mainly because indirect attainment is zero, indicating lower student confidence or limited feedback response related to health policy, insurance, and expenditure analysis.
- At the PO level, PO6 and PO7 show relatively lower attainment, as the course focuses more on conceptual understanding and analysis rather than leadership and governance competencies.

Overall Gap Status:

The gaps identified are specific and limited, primarily related to policy and insurance evaluation components.

4. Areas for Improvement / Action Plan

To address the identified gaps and further improve course effectiveness:

- Introduce more case studies on health policies, reforms, and insurance schemes
- Conduct guided discussions and workshops on current health policies
- Strengthen policy-analysis-based assignments
- Improve indirect assessment methods through structured reflective feedback

These actions will help enhance CO5 attainment and strengthen higher-order analytical skills.

5. Summary and Conclusion

The Health and Social Work course is well-structured and effectively delivered, with strong alignment to program outcomes related to health equity, social justice, and evidence-based practice. Most course outcomes have been achieved beyond the targeted levels, demonstrating meaningful student learning. The minor gap identified provides clear direction for focused academic improvement.

Overall, the course contributes significantly to preparing competent, health-sensitive, and policy-aware social work professionals.

History and Philosophy of Social Work

MSW

Sem - 1

1. Course Overview

The History and Philosophy of Social Work course is offered to first-year MSW students to provide a strong foundation in the historical evolution, ideological roots, and philosophical traditions of social work, both globally and in the Indian context. The course also emphasizes eco-humanism and self-care as essential components of professional practice.

The course outcomes focus on understanding the evolution of social work, analyzing ideological and philosophical foundations, and applying self-care strategies for professional balance. The average CO attainment is 2.79, indicating good overall achievement of learning outcomes.

2. Purpose of the Course Overview Report

The purpose of this report is to:

- Evaluate the achievement of course outcomes
- Assess the effectiveness of teaching-learning and assessment methods
- Ensure alignment between Course Outcomes (COs) and Program Outcomes (POs)
- Identify academic strengths and learning gaps
- Support continuous quality improvement in curriculum delivery

3. Gap Analysis

The gap analysis compares target CO attainment levels with final attainment.

Key Observations:

- CO2, CO3, and CO4 have exceeded their target levels, reflecting strong understanding of ideological foundations, philosophical traditions, and self-care practices.
- CO1 shows a comparatively larger gap, mainly due to lower direct attainment in the external examination, indicating difficulty in recalling and organizing historical content.
- Indirect attainment for all COs is high, showing positive student perception and engagement.
- At the PO level, PO2 and PO6 show lower attainment, as the course is concept-oriented and less focused on applied intervention and policy advocacy skills.

Overall Gap Status:

The gaps identified are moderate and content-specific, particularly related to historical analysis.

4. Areas for Improvement / Action Plan

To address the identified gaps and enhance learning:

- Use timelines, charts, and visual aids for historical concepts
- Strengthen revision and concept-mapping sessions before examinations
- Integrate application-based questions linking history to present practice
- Encourage reflective writing on philosophical relevance in modern social work

These actions will help improve historical understanding and exam performance.

5. Summary and Conclusion

The History and Philosophy of Social Work course is well-designed and effectively delivered, with strong alignment to program outcomes related to ethical practice, critical thinking, and professional identity formation. Most course outcomes have been achieved beyond the target levels, indicating meaningful student learning. The identified gap in historical understanding provides clear direction for focused academic enhancement.

Overall, the course plays an important role in developing theoretically grounded, reflective, and value-oriented social work professionals.

Introduction to Social Sciences

MSW

Sem - 1

1. Course Overview

The Introduction to Social Sciences course is offered to first-year MSW students to provide a foundational understanding of core social science disciplines and their relevance to social work practice. The course helps students differentiate between social and natural sciences and apply sociological and political concepts in professional social work settings.

The course outcomes focus on understanding disciplinary differences, applying sociology in practice, analyzing culture and institutions, and using democratic concepts in social work strategies. The average CO attainment is 2.96, indicating very strong achievement of learning outcomes.

2. Purpose of the Course Overview Report

The purpose of this report is to:

- Evaluate the achievement of course outcomes
- Assess the effectiveness of teaching–learning and assessment methods

- Ensure alignment between Course Outcomes (COs) and Program Outcomes (POs)
- Identify strengths and areas for improvement
- Support continuous quality enhancement in curriculum delivery

3. Gap Analysis

The gap analysis compares target CO attainment with final attainment levels.

Key Observations:

- All course outcomes have exceeded their target levels, indicating effective curriculum delivery and strong student engagement.
- CO1 shows the highest positive gap, reflecting excellent understanding of differences between social and natural sciences.
- Slightly lower direct attainment in CO3 and CO4 in the external examination suggests a need for more practice in analytical and application-based answers.
- At the PO level, PO6 and PO7 show comparatively lower attainment, as the course focuses on conceptual foundations rather than leadership and governance skills.

Overall Gap Status:

No critical gaps are identified; all gaps are positive or minor.

4. Areas for Improvement / Action Plan

To further enhance learning outcomes:

- Increase use of current case examples in sociology and political science
- Strengthen application-oriented questions in assessments

- Encourage group discussions and debates on democratic processes
- Link concepts more explicitly to fieldwork and practice settings

5. Summary and Conclusion

The Introduction to Social Sciences course is well-structured and effectively delivered, with strong alignment to program outcomes related to critical thinking, interdisciplinary understanding, and ethical practice. All course outcomes have been achieved beyond the expected levels, demonstrating meaningful student learning.

Overall, the course plays a foundational role in preparing analytically strong and socially aware social work professionals.

Research Methodology – I

MSW

Sem - 1

1. Course Overview

The Research Methodology – I course is offered to first-year MSW students to provide a strong foundation in social work research principles and practices. The course equips students with essential skills in research ethics, literature review, research design, sampling, and data collection methods.

The course outcomes focus on ethical research practice, understanding initial research steps, analyzing research designs, and constructing appropriate data collection tools. The average CO attainment is 2.82, indicating good overall achievement of learning outcomes.

2. Purpose of the Course Overview Report

The purpose of this report is to:

- Assess the achievement of research-oriented course outcomes
- Evaluate the effectiveness of teaching–learning and assessment strategies

- Ensure alignment between Course Outcomes (COs) and Program Outcomes (POs)
- Identify strengths and learning gaps
- Support continuous quality improvement in research training

3. Gap Analysis

The gap analysis compares target CO attainment levels with final attainment.

Key Observations:

- CO1, CO2, and CO3 have exceeded their target levels, reflecting strong understanding of ethics, research initiation, and research design.
- CO4 shows a marginal negative gap, mainly due to slightly lower direct attainment in the external examination, indicating the need for more practice in tool construction under exam conditions.
- High indirect attainment across all COs indicates positive student perception and confidence in research skills.
- At the PO level, PO7 shows lower attainment, as leadership and managerial competencies are not the primary focus of this research-oriented course.

Overall Gap Status:

The gaps identified are minor and course-specific, with no critical learning deficiencies.

4. Areas for Improvement / Action Plan

To further strengthen learning outcomes:

- Provide additional hands-on practice in research tool construction

- Conduct mock examinations focused on applied research questions
- Integrate small-scale field-based research exercises
- Strengthen exam-oriented guidance for methodological concepts

5. Summary and Conclusion

The Research Methodology – I course is well-designed and effectively delivered, with strong alignment to program outcomes related to research competence, ethical practice, and evidence-based social work. Most course outcomes have been achieved beyond the targeted levels, indicating meaningful student learning. The minor gap identified offers clear direction for focused academic improvement.

Overall, the course plays a key role in developing research-informed and professionally competent social work practitioners.

Rural and Urban Community Development

MSW

Sem - 1

1. Course Overview

The Rural and Urban Community Development course is offered to first-year MSW students to build a clear understanding of rural, tribal, and urban communities, their socio-cultural diversity, and development challenges. The course emphasizes participatory planning approaches and analysis of rural–urban disparities to prepare students for community-based social work practice.

The course outcomes focus on conceptual clarity, contextual understanding, analytical skills, and application of participatory development methods. The average Course Outcome (CO) attainment is 2.9, indicating very good overall achievement of learning outcomes.

2. Purpose of the Course Overview Report

The purpose of this report is to:

- Evaluate the achievement of course outcomes
- Assess the effectiveness of teaching–learning and assessment strategies
- Ensure alignment between Course Outcomes (COs) and Program Outcomes (POs)
- Identify strengths and gaps in learning
- Support continuous academic and curricular improvement

Social Work with Groups

MSW

Sem - 1

1. Course Overview

The Social Work with Groups course is offered to first-year MSW students to provide systematic knowledge and practical understanding of group work as a core method of social work practice. The course focuses on the historical development of group work, group dynamics, stages of group development, and application of group processes for effective intervention.

The course outcomes emphasize knowledge, explanation, analysis, and application of group work principles. The average Course Outcome (CO) attainment is 2.88, indicating very good achievement of learning outcomes.

2. Purpose of the Course Overview Report

The purpose of this report is to:

- Assess the achievement of course outcomes
- Evaluate the effectiveness of activity-based and experiential teaching methods

- Ensure alignment between Course Outcomes (COs) and Program Outcomes (POs)
- Identify strengths and areas requiring improvement
- Support continuous quality enhancement in professional social work education

3. Gap Analysis

The gap analysis compares target CO levels with final attainment.

Key Observations:

- All course outcomes (CO1 to CO4) have exceeded their target levels, showing effective curriculum delivery.
- Very high performance in formative assessments (group activities, interventions, posters) reflects strong student engagement and practical understanding.
- Slightly lower performance in CO1 during the external examination indicates a need for better consolidation of historical concepts under exam conditions.
- Indirect attainment is Level 3 for all COs, showing high student satisfaction and confidence.
- At the PO level, PO2, PO6, and PO7 show relatively lower attainment, as the course emphasizes practice skills rather than leadership, governance, or policy advocacy.

Overall Gap Status:

No critical gaps are observed; all gaps are positive or minor.

4. Areas for Improvement / Action Plan

To further enhance learning outcomes:

- Strengthen revision of historical development of group work
- Include more exam-oriented application questions
- Integrate case-based group simulations
- Encourage reflective writing linking group theory to field practice

These measures will help improve exam performance while sustaining strong practical learning.

5. Summary and Conclusion

The Social Work with Groups course is well-designed and effectively implemented, with strong alignment to program outcomes related to professional competence, ethical practice, and participatory intervention. All course outcomes have been achieved beyond the target levels, demonstrating meaningful and practice-oriented student learning.

Overall, the course plays a key role in preparing competent, collaborative, and practice-ready social work professionals.

3. Gap Analysis

The gap analysis compares target CO levels with final attainment.

Key Observations:

- CO1, CO2, and CO3 have exceeded their target levels, reflecting strong understanding of community concepts, diversity, and rural–urban disparities.
- CO4 shows a marginal negative gap (-0.16), mainly due to slightly lower performance in the external examination, indicating the need for more practice in applying participatory planning methods in exam settings.
- Formative assessments show excellent attainment across all COs, highlighting the effectiveness of activity-based learning such as film reviews, posters, and presentations.

- Indirect attainment is consistently high (Level 3), showing strong student satisfaction and engagement.
- At the PO level, PO6 and PO7 show relatively lower attainment, as the course emphasizes foundational community development concepts rather than advanced leadership or governance skills.

Overall Gap Status:

The identified gaps are minor and manageable, with no critical deficiencies.

4. Areas for Improvement / Action Plan

To further strengthen course outcomes:

- Provide more case-based exercises on participatory planning
- Strengthen exam-oriented application questions
- Integrate field-based examples from rural and urban development programs
- Encourage group projects linked to real community issues

These steps will help improve application-oriented learning and CO4 attainment.

5. Summary and Conclusion

The Rural and Urban Community Development course is well-structured and effectively delivered, with strong alignment to program outcomes related to community practice, social justice, and participatory development. Most course outcomes have been achieved beyond their target levels, demonstrating meaningful and experiential student learning. The minor gap identified provides clear direction for focused improvement.

Overall, the course plays a vital role in preparing competent, community-oriented, and socially responsive social work professionals.

Responses Analysis

Total Student - 60

A total of 51 students responded. The feedback reflects excellent understanding of research fundamentals, with 100% positive responses across all learning outcomes and no disagreement recorded.

Questions

Q1.I was able to identifying ethical principles and relevance of research in social work?

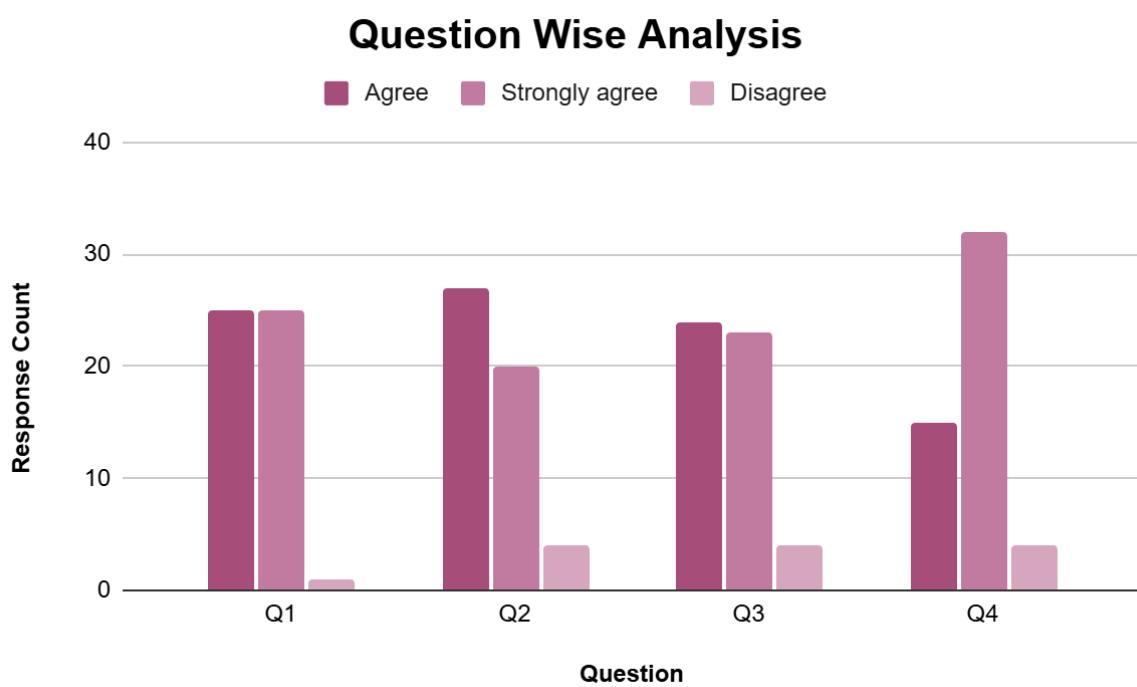

Q2.I was able to understanding the initial steps of research, including literature review and hypothesis formulation ?

Q3.I was able to understand different types of research designs and sampling strategies?

Q4.I was able to understand use of appropriate tools and methods for data collection ?

Outcome Code	Learning Outcome Focus	Strongly Agree (%)	Agree (%)	Disagree (%)	Positive (%)
Q1	Ethics & relevance of research	45.1%	54.9%	0%	100%
Q2	Initial research steps	45.1%	54.9%	0%	100%

Q3	Research designs & sampling	45.1%	54.9%	0%	100%
Q4	Data collection tools & methods	45.1%	54.9%	0%	100%

◊ Q1 — Identifying Ethical Principles & Relevance of Research

Positive Responses (SA + A): 100%

- Students demonstrated complete clarity on ethical principles and the importance of research in social work.
- Indicates strong ethical orientation in research understanding.

◊ Q2 — Understanding Initial Steps of Research

Positive Responses: 100%

- Students clearly understood literature review processes and hypothesis formulation.
- Reflects strong foundational research competence.

◊ Q3 — Understanding Research Designs & Sampling Strategies

Positive Responses: 100%

- Students showed excellent understanding of various research designs and sampling methods.
- Indicates effective teaching of methodological concepts.

◊ Q4 — Understanding Tools & Methods for Data Collection

Positive Responses: 100%

- Students confidently understood appropriate tools and data collection methods.
- Demonstrates readiness for conducting basic social work research.

❖ Key Insights (Executive Summary)

- ✓ Perfect achievement across all research learning outcomes.
- ✓ Strong ethical grounding and methodological clarity among students.
- ✓ High proportion of Strongly Agree responses reflects deep confidence in research concepts.
- ✓ Students are well-prepared for basic research activities in social work contexts.

❖ Overall Dashboard Conclusion

The course demonstrates outstanding effectiveness, achieving 100% positive student feedback across all learning outcomes. Students show strong ethical awareness, methodological understanding, and readiness to engage in social work research.
