ABOUT THE COLLEGE

The College has shaped its vision in tune with the spirit of its founders to contribute to building up of a new social order in India based on human dignity and social justice. The College constantly stands by its commitment to work with a preferential option to the vulnerable and exploited groups in the society, to ensure their development and empowerment. As an academic institution, the College strives to build a cadre of professional social workers, irrespective of caste, creed, language and sex.

Vision and Mission is as follows:

- Contribute to building a new social order based on human dignity and social justice.
- Work with a preferential option for the vulnerable and exploited, both locally and globally.
- Build a cadre of young, competent professionals having a global perspective and a strong value base of compassion, personal integrity, moderation, tolerance and self-respect.

History

College of Social Work was founded in 1955 by a religious society of Catholic Christian women, known as The Daughters of the Heart of Mary, whose charisma is to readily respond to felt needs of the people according to the signs of times. In the years following the independence of India, the founders discerned that the nation's struggle for development would be served not so much by material relief as by sensitive social concern and insightful committed action. Accordingly, the College was born to realize their dream.

The Institute of Social Service managed the College till the year 1978. Since 1978, the Nirmala Niketan Institute has become the parent body of the College. The Institute awarded its own Diploma in Social Work till 1965. The college sought affiliation with University of Bombay in 1969 and the MSW program was offered as a PG program under the Faculty of Arts. Realizing the need to respond to professional interventions at grassroots levels, the College also started its university recognized three-year BSW program in 1971. The University of Bombay recognized the College for registration of students for Ph.D. degree in Social Work from the year 1997. All these programs are revised periodically in order to ensure that the educational content is relevant to the social reality of contemporary life.

The Government of Maharashtra recognized College of Social Work as a Catholic Minority Institution in the year 1995. National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) awarded the College the FIVE STAR status for its academic excellence in 2001. The same body, after further inspection and appraisal re-accredited the College of Social Work at the A+ level with an Institutional Score of 93 per cent in March 2007, and in May 2015, college was awarded with A grade, corresponding to a CGPA of 3.53 on a scale of 4. The college received Autonomous status (academic) in the month of February 2019.

Professional Commitment

Over the years, the College has been evolving its specific commitments, which relate to all aspects of its functions – teaching, field instruction, research, administration, and field service projects. It encourages its teaching and non-teaching staff to get involved and contribute to the community through these services.

The primary emphasis of the curricular and cocurricular activities is on disadvantaged urban and rural population. The focus of the programs provides structural perspectives of issues affecting the slum, rural and tribal communities and also searches for various approaches of problem-solving processes. There is also a commitment to the problems of health, education and employment of disadvantaged groups and the need for improved delivery and adoption of a humane approach of social and development services for disadvantaged groups.

All full-time faculty members have a Master's Degree in Social Work (MSW) and are UGCNET qualified, and several also have an MPhil or a PhD. degree. Several visiting lecturers teach full courses (papers) as they contribute to the inter-disciplinary base of the curriculum. These visiting lecturers are drawn from the Social and Behavioural Sciences and from other professions such as law, medicine/mental health, etc. University recognized guides are available for the PhD programme in Social Work.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMMES

The College provides a generic course of studies both at the MSW and the BSW levels. A semester system of three years has been adopted for the BSW program since 2009, and the Credit Based Semester Grading System, initiated by the University of Mumbai started for BSW from 2011-2012 and for MSW from 2012-2013. In the year 2016, As per UGC requirement College adopted semester-based choice-based credit system. The syllabus was revised as per the structure recommended by the UGC. The curriculum is carefully designed to ensure that the student has a broad base of the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes to function in a variety of settings related to the existing employment opportunity in the development sector. Despite being generic programs, the courses are designed to deepen students' interest in specific areas through fieldwork, research projects, term paper and elective subjects.

Master's and Bachelor's Level Programmes

The curriculum consists of relevant aspects of both theory and field work to help students enhance their practical understanding of social work practice.

Theory

Theoretical perspectives provided in the programs hope to achieve the following objectives:

- Acquire knowledge of the functioning of individuals and groups in social systems, the interrelationships between them and the manner in which they promote or impede a healthy social functioning,
- Obtain knowledge from other disciplines which contribute to the understanding of persons in the bio-psycho-social matrix,

- Develop professional capacity for identification of issues and problems violating the human rights of groups and communities and design effective responses for affecting a meaningful change in their situation,
- Attain the capacity to select and order priorities, to plan, to make realistic goals, and select appropriate strategies to fulfil the goals,
- Develop skills in the utilization of social work intervention methods and adopt ethical practices using the principles of the profession while working with individuals and families, groups and communities.

Field Work

Field Work is an integral part of the programme of training in social work. It comprises learning professional social work practice under the guidance of trained field instructors in selected Government and Non- Government organizations. It enables the student to see the applicability of theoretical knowledge taught in the classroom to actual situations requiring social work intervention. It is both goal-oriented to solve a particular problem to which the student addresses her/his activities and learner-centred in relation to her/his particular interest areas and aptitudes.

Practical experience in fieldwork aims at the following objectives:

- Provide opportunity for the integration of classroom learning and field practice and vice versa (feedback mechanism for both class and field),
- Develop skills through learning how to utilize the knowledge learnt in the classroom for analysis of problems affecting the target groups and selection of the appropriate means for problem-solving,
- Cultivate attitudes, values and commitments of the profession relevant to working with the most disadvantaged sections of society,

- Develop awareness of self and the way in which student's behaviour is affected by past experiences and cultural factors, and the way in which these affect the perceptions of their response to others.

Students will be required to maintain regular recordings of the fieldwork done during the course of their study.

All students are required to dress soberly and appropriately, giving due respect to the socio-cultural practices of the people whom they work with while at fieldwork. A similar sobriety in dress code is also expected from students within the College premises and hostels.

Faculty Advising and Mentoring

Each student is assigned to a Faculty Adviser. Ordinarily a new Faculty Adviser is appointed each year. The appointment of the Faculty Adviser is based on the particular fieldwork placement of the student since each faculty member is responsible for a group of placements whether or not they directly provide field instruction in those placements. Besides being responsible for the students' field work performance, the Faculty Adviser is also responsible for the students' overall academic work and professional development. Difficulties experienced by the student may be discussed with the Adviser whose function is to assist and guide the student. The students receive individualized attention in the form of guidance and supervision from the teaching faculty.

As per the Regulation of the Directorate of Social Welfare, Government of Maharashtra, the staff student ratio of the College is to be maintained at 1:14.

Age and Sex

There is no minimum age for admission provided the student meets all other eligibility and admission criteria required by the University and the College. Admission is open to both men and women students for all programmes.

Medium of Instruction

Medium of Instruction English is the medium of instruction for all courses. Hence, the ability to use English as a language is essential. Fluency in either Hindi or Marathi is required for working with the client system.

Teaching

Theory classes are held on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays (half-day). Fieldwork days are on Thursday afternoon, Friday and Saturday. Most of the classes are conducted with a combination of lecture, presentation and discussion method where participation from students is strongly encouraged.

The students are given an outline of the content of each course as well as bibliography of the required reading at the beginning of each semester. Students are expected to supplement classroom learning by independent reading. Required readings are prescribed from several sources which are available in the library.

Examination and Marking System

There is continuous internal assessment (40%) and semester end examination (60%) for each course in each semester. Students both at BSW and MSW level need to have minimum of 75% attendance in all subjects to be eligible to appear for exams. The college can withhold the students from appearing for exam in case of failure to attain 75% attendance.

Passing Standard

The learners to pass a course shall have to obtain minimum of 40% marks for each course at the Semester End Examination. A learner will be said to have passed the course if the learner passes the Internal Assessment and Semester End Examination respectively. The learner shall have to obtain a minimum of 40% in field work in each semester for BSW and MSW.

Hence, to pass the Examination, a candidate of BSW/ MSW must obtain:

- 40% of the full marks assigned to a course
- 40% of the full marks in field work

The medium of instruction is English and thus the question papers set at the Internal and External exams for MSW will be in English, However the student will be allowed to write the exam in Marathi or Hindi.

It is strongly recommended that students make necessary alternate arrangements for carrying out their family responsibilities if any, as the program would make demands on their time. Prior written permission has to be obtained for absence from individual classes from the faculty concerned. Leave of absence in each case may be granted on the merit of the particular case. For leave exceeding one day, prior intimation has to be sent to the Faculty Adviser. In case of illness exceeding a day, a letter explaining the absence must be sent to the Principal duly signed by the Faculty Adviser and a medical certificate should be submitted within three days after the student reports to the college after the illness. Any absence of students on the day of the reopening of the College after vacation will not be condoned except in unavoidable circumstances. Such absence will be treated as a serious lapse in the conduct of the student.

Field Work Students are expected to work for a minimum of 15 hours per week in the field. They are also expected to make up their fieldwork hours when absent from field work. The students are expected to compulsorily inform the agency and the field instructor if they cannot attend to the work on a fieldwork day so that the client system and the agency are not inconvenienced. Failure to do so will be strictly dealt with. Any absence from fieldwork of a longer duration than one day must be communicated in writing to the Faculty Adviser. Hundred per cent attendance in fieldwork must be completed to be eligible to appear for the Examination
